

Vandals damage golf course

By Todd Mathews
Golf Course Superintendent

The first big snow of the season wasn't the only thing that hit Lake Tansi golf course on January 29th. Vandals decided to use parts of the golf course for an off road adventure.

The Vandals did “doughnuts” and “spin outs” on holes 7, 8, and 12.

They left large ruts and areas stripped sod in their path. They even drove on the putting greens on holes 8 and 12. Thankfully, a couple of home owners phoned the authorities and the vandals were nabbed in the act. They were arrested and taken to jail where they await a court date. An official complaint has been sent and vandalism charges have been filed by the golf maintenance department.
