

On January 9, our POA Board met for its 2017 Organizational Meeting, where this year's Officers, Committee Chairpersons, and Committee Liaisons were determined. To assist you in knowing who to contact should you choose to help on any of our committees or have need of their services, we have included a list of those elected and appointed volunteers in this Smoke Signal edition.

We are fortunate that many individuals have been willing to continue serving on committees, or in positions, they held last year. This will hopefully allow us to more efficiently continue many of the projects which our Board has determined important to our members and community.

One of the projects particularly important to us will be the use of a newly revised A.C.C. Rules and Regulations Booklet that we believe will allow our members and community to more easily find answers to many questions that might concern them.

The completion of our covenant extension efforts, as noted elsewhere in this Smoke Signal edition, will be of utmost importance to us this year. Equally, we will continue the pursuit and legal collection of dollars owed us by those individuals and entities that have not respected obligations to which they are legally bound.

We progress in the reduction of LTVPOA debt, and promise to provide and improve services, offerings, and amenities that cause our membership, as well as others living in or visiting our community, to realize the value of our association.

We welcome any who might join our membership this year. We seek your suggestions and are always appreciative of fresh ideas and approaches.

Believing that 2017 can be a wonderful year,

Farrell Odom
